CARBON PRICING PATHWAYS TOOLKIT IS TO BE IMPLEMENTED IN THE NEXT 2 YEARS 39 COUNTRIES AND 23 CITIES
At COP21 Bourget, 39 countries and 23 cities, states and regions already have or are putting a price on carbon, through programs and systems that are covering about 12% of the global GHG emissions. More than 1,000 companies globally currently have or are planning to implement in the next two years an internal price on carbon. Live From COP21-Bourget"  Business and investors need robust policies to ensure carbon prices rise to a level high enough to shift global investments into low carbon solutions. But conversations between business, investors and government around carbon pricing often get stuck as there is a lack of technical guidance."  The Carbon Pricing Pathways Toolkit developed by We Mean Business and CDP in support of the Carbon Pricing Leadership Coalition facilitates the important conversation about the nature of carbon pricing and the development of price levels Key recommendations include widespread adoption of effective carbon pricing policies, setting carbon price levels to transform economies with large-scale decarbonisation and converging carbon prices over time globally.
